INDEX

TO THE SEVENTH VOLUME.

A

Adam, Mr. John, Departure of, from India, 144. Resolution of the Court of Directors on the death of, 170. Meeting at Calcutta for the purpose of voting an Address to, 548. Speech of Mr. Ricketts on the Occasion of, ib.

African Manufactures, 172.

Almorah, the Ship, Details respecting her Seizure at New South Wales, 163.

Antients, Illustrations of the various Customs, Phrases, and Opinions of the, from Oriental Sources, 439. Prevalence of the Opinions of Spiritual Agency, ib.

Apprenticing Society at Calcutta, 147.

Arnot, Mr. Sandford, Memorial of, to the East India Company, 174.

Arabian Nights' Entertainments, 117. Remarks on M. Von Hammer's New Series of the, ib. Proofs in support of the Superiority and Genuineness of the old Collection, by M. Galland, 118. Criticisms on the alleged Forgeries of the latter, 119.

Arracan, Capture of 156. Symes's Account of the City, ib. Attack on the Chambala Stockade by the Squadron under Commodore Hayes, 157. Failure of ditto, ib. Abandonment of the Stockade by the Burmese, ib. Particulars of the Fall of, 367. Intention of Government with respect to the Province, 368.

Asiatic Society of Calcutta, Meeting of the, 354. Account of the Literary and other Curiosities procured by Mr. Hodgson from Nepaul, 355.

Asiatic Society of Paris, Labours of, (4th Article,) 105. On the Papers respecting Independent Tartary, ib. M. Klaproth's Notions respecting the Language of the Bokharians, ib. Curious Manuscript, 106. Policy of the Russians towards the Petty States of Central Asia, 107. Commercial Route from Astracan to Khiwa and Bokharia, 109. Antiquities of Siberia, 110. Antient Tribes of the Kirghis and the Khazars, 111. Persia, 296. Antient Inscriptions of Persepolis, ib. Memoir on the Arsacidan Princes of Persia, ib. M. de Sacy's Note on the History of Shah Abbas, 299. Philological Discussion as to the Analogy between the Arabic of Barbary and the classical Dialect of Syria and Egypt, ib. Analysis of the celebrated Historical Work of Ibn Khaldun, 300. Essay on the Commerce and Relations of the Arabs and Persians with Russia and Scandinavia during the Middle Ages, 301. The Arabs in Spain, extracted from the Oriental Historians, ib. M. Reinaud's Notice on the Life of Saladin, 302.

B

Bahama Islands, 219. First Discovery of, by Columbus; Cruelty of the Spaniards, ib. History of Black Beard the Pirate, 221. Naval Heroism, 222. Capture of New Providence, 224. Description of the Town of Nassau, 225. Population of the Island, 228.

Bengal, Summary of the latest Intelligence from, 144. Extracts from Private Letters, ib. Feelings and Opinions of Calcutta Society, 145. Remarks on Sir E. Paget, Sir S. Whittingham, and Colonel Stevenson, 146. State of Public Opinion in India respecting Lord Amherst's Fitness for his Situation, ib. Disgust excited by the late General Order addressed to Commanding Officers, 147. Population of the old Territory of Bengal, 148. Meeting of the Ladies of Calcutta, ib. Letter from Bauleah, mentioning the safety of Mr. Gonger, who is in the hands of the Burmese, ib. Humane Proclamation of the Birman Chief, ib. Disturbances in Central India, 346. Orders sent by the Government to Sir David Ochterlony to withdraw his Troops, ib. His Disgust and Resignation in consequence, ib. Injurious Effects produced on the Minds of the Natives by our Defeat at Bhurtpoor, ib. Injunction of Silence imposed on the Press, 347. Reports of the Disposition of the Burmese to Negotiate, 384. Interesting Letter from Rangoon, 348. Uncertainty respecting the real Proprietors of the Calcutta 'John Bull;' Comments on some of its Remarks on the 'Calcutta Journal;' Sending Letters to the Newspapers; Domestic Slavery in Calcutta; and the Transportation of European Women from the Country, 354. Termination of the second Campaign against the Burmese, 536. Account of the unhealthy Situation of Prome, ib. Panic at Penang on the Passage of the Siamese Armament, ib. Failure of Supplies already experienced at Prome, 639. Mr. Trotter's Proposal for a grand Agency Association by the Company's Servants, ib. Losses of the latter from the low Rate of Exchange, 542. Effects of the Company's Regulations on the Trade of the Country, 543. Missionary Converts, 544. Prevalence of Cholera at Dinapore and Patna, 545.

Bhurtpoor, Disturbances at, occasioned by the Death of Rajah Bulder Sing, 149. Particulars of the Affairs at, 362. Description of the Siege of, by Lord Lake, 363. Account of the Town, ib. Causes of the Failure of the Siege of, 520. Disaffection at, 537. Report of an Attempt to draw other States into Combination with, 549.

Birman Territory, Military Operations in, 550.

Births, Marriages, and Deaths, 197, 396, 609.

Bombay, Mr. Secretary Warden's Character of the Bar at, 369. Quarrel between Mr. Norton and Mr. Brown in Court, ib. Belief of the Natives respecting the Monument erecting to the Memory of Lord Cornwallis, 374. Visitations of the Lord Bishop of Calcutta, 554. Education Societies, ib. Mr. Warden's Manifesto in Reply to some Observations in No. XIV. of this Work, 556. Remarks on the Outcry raised by the Barristers respecting a Paper in No. IV. of ditto, 558.

Buckingham, Mr., Further Disclosures relating to the Destruction of his Property in India, 569. Consequences of the Suppression of the 'Calcutta Journal,' ib. His Letter to the East India Company, 570. Correspondence between Mr. Buckingham, his Agents, and the Indian Government, respecting the 'Calcutta Journal,' 574. Second Letter to the East India Company, 581. Answer of the Directors, 583. Appeal to the Board of Control, ib. Answer of, ib. His Reply to the Remarks of the Calcutta 'John Bull,' 559.

Bugis, On the Trade of the, in the Indian Archipelago, 141. Situation of the Country of the Wago Tribe, ib. Singular Nature and Freedom of their Government, ib. Number of the Wago Vessels carrying on Foreign Trade, 142. Nature of their Exports, ib. Probable Abandonment of the Spice Monopoly, ib. Enumeration of the Commodities carried away by them from the European Settlements, 143.

Bundoolah, the Burmese General, Death of, 550. Supposition of his being an Englishman, and once a Major in the 86th Regiment, 567.

Burmese Artillery, 154. Mode of Warfare, 155.

Burning of Hindoo Widows, Opinions entertained Forty Years ago on, 527. Extract from Dr. Gilchrist's 'English and Hindoostanee Philology' respecting, 528. Proposal for easily and safely eradicating the Practice, 529.

Burmese State Carriage, 568.

C

Calcutta, "Peace, Harmony, and good Order of Society" in, 545. Quarrel and personal Altercation between Lieut. Macnaghten and Captain Husband, ib. State of the Press at, 355, 362. Account of some of the Persons engaged in conducting it, 356. Squabbles between Mr. Greenlaw and Mr. Macnaghten, 357. Loan opened by Government at, 361. State of the Money-Market, ib. Expectations of the arrival of Specie from England.

Cape of Good Hope, 167. Consternation produced by the Order in Council for the Payment of the Rix-dollar in Specie, ib. Deterioration of Property in consequence, ib. Royal Proclamation, directing that a Council shall be established in the Colony, ib. Languor of Trade at, 375. Appointment of General Bourke to the Lieutenant-Governorship of, ib. Redress granted by the Colonial Office to Mr. Greig, 562. Petition of the Inhabitants to the King in Council respecting the Changes in the Currency, ib.

Central India, War in, 362.

Ceylon, Origin and Progress of the Introduction of Trial by Native Juries in, and highly beneficial Effects of on the Moral and Political Disposition of the People, 231.

Chinese Language, On the Study of the, 522. Advantages expected to be derived from the Use of a Universal Character and Language, 523. Examination of that in Use among the Chinese, 524. Public Library of Chinese Books established by Dr. Morrison in London, 526.

Civil and Military Intelligence, 194, 390, 600.

Civil Servants of the Company, New Rules adopted for the Furlough and Retiring Funds of, 549.

Cochin China, 160. Prohibition of the Exportation of Rice, ib. Rise of Price in consequence, ib. Departure of Messrs. Vannier and Chaigneau for France, 160, 560.

Colonial Press, State of the, at the Cape of Good Hope, 562. In the West Indies, ib.

Commercial Intelligence, 198, 398, 612.

D

Deccan Prize Money, 377. Abstract of the Property acquired by the Operations of, and Captures made by the Army of the Deccan, 511. Correspondence of the Duke of Wellington and Mr. Arbuthnot with Sir T. Hislop, 514. Gross Mistake respecting the Amount of Property claimed by the Army, ib. Injustice of refusing its Agents Access to the Company's, Accounts, 515.

Discipline, Comparative State of, in Ships of War and East Indiamen, 138.

E

East India Directors, Anticipated Changes in the, 563.

East Indian Club, Proceedings of the Meeting of, at Calcutta, 349. Formation of, at Madras, 368. At Bombay, 373. Literary Society at Calcutta, 543.

Education, General Progress of, and Obstacles to its Introduction into British India, 482. Facilities for, at the present moment in this Country, ib. General Progress of, in Europe, 483. In America, 484. In the South, 485. In British India, ib.

Egypt, Researches on Antient Inducements for the Study of the Remains of Antiquity of, 37. Review of the Second Volume of Sir W. Drummond's 'Origines,' ib. Existing State of the Agricultural and Commercial Resources of, under the present Ruler, 258. Scantiness of Materials for forming an Estimate of the Rise and Progress of Commerce in the various Countries of the World, ib. History of Mohammed Ali Pasha, 259. Accounts of the Country by Antient Writers, 260. Its Extent, 261. Soil and Climate of, 262. Formation of Canals, 263. Its Population, 264. Character of the People, ib. Tyranny of the Pasha, 265. Produce of the Country, 266. Checks on the Industry of the Inhabitants, ib. The Viceroy's attention to Manufactures and Agriculture, 465. Increase in the Cultivation of Cotton, 466. Amount Exported to Europe, 467. Its Rivalry with that of America, ib. Enumeration of the most important Articles of Commerce in, 468. Imports of ditto, ib. Commerce of Alexandria in 1824, ib. Traffic in Slaves, 469. Number of Arrivals of Ships at Alexandria in 1824, ib. Number and Destination of the Departures from ditto, ib. List of the Arrivals and Departures in 1823 and 1824, with their Flags, ib. Account of all the Departures from Alexandria in 1824, with their Destination and Flags, 470. Amount of the Pasha's Revenue, ib. Sources of ditto, ib. Errors of his Government, 471. Description of the Inhabitants, ib. Resources of the Country, 473. Illiberal Policy of the Viceroy towards his Subjects, 474. Changes that have taken place in the Face of the Country, 475.

Elphinstone, Governor, Judge Chambers, and the Banished Bombay Editor, Mr. Fair, 129.

Essay on a Common-Place Topic, 477. Progress of Innovation, ib. Observance of the Sabbath, 478. King Charles's Declaration concerning, 479. Consistency, 480.

Europe, Incidents and Events in, connected with the Eastern World, 168. Rumour of an Over-Land Despatch received at the India House, ib. Continued Silence of the Directors respecting the Destruction of the Sepoys at Barrackpore, ib. Probable Recall of Lord Amherst, 171. Rumour of the Appointment of the Duke of Buckingham in his room; Arrival of the Moffat and Juliana from Quebec, 172.

F

Forget-me-Not, for 1826, Review of, 517.

Frazer's Travels in Khorasan, 98. The Author's Route, ib. Exactness and Fidelity of his Description of the Turcoman Tribes, ib. Anecdote of Shah Abbas at the Pass of Lasgird, 99. Tyranny of the Governors, and State of the People in Persia, ib. Picturesque Appearance of a Caravan setting forward, 100. History of the Foundation and Fortunes of the Village of Abbassabad, 101. Desolation of the City of Mushed, 103. Description of the Scenery in the Neighbourhood of the Caspian Sea, 104. Views of Calcutta, 533.

Friendship's Offering, Review of, 517.

G

Gilchrist's, Dr. J. B., Explanation of his Opinions as to the Practicability of Teaching the Oriental Languages in London, 378. His Universal Character, 519 Table of, 520.

Governor-Generals, Past, Present, and to Come, 169.

Governor-General, New, Speculations as to the Appointment of a, 375. Offers to the Duke of Buckingham, 376. Wishes of the Directors respecting Sir Thos. Munro, 565. Remarks respecting the anticipated Appointment of the Duke of Buckingham, ib.

Greece, State and Prospects of, 305. Apathy in this and other Countries regarding her present Struggle, ib. Difference between seeing and judging of a Country, ib. Sufferings of the Greeks under their Turkish Rulers, 307. Knowledge acquired by them in spite of their subjection, ib. Mr. Waddington's Horror of the Revolution, ib. Their Offer of throwing themselves into the Arms of England, 308. Different Modes of exciting Enthusiasm in favour of, ib.

Gretna Green, Visit to, 268. Mode of Electing the "Blacksmith," 269. Description of his Person and Manners, 270. Number of Marriages solemnized at, ib. Account of the Method of Performing the Ceremony, 271. Introduction of the Act of Parliament for the Suppression of Private Marriages, 271. Condemnation of the Facility of contracting Marriages in Scotland, 273. Proposal for a Reform, ib.

Guzerat, Insurrection of the Coolies at, 160.

H

Hastings, Lord, Controversy between, and Col. Baillie, the late Resident at the Court of Lucknow, 401.

Hindoo Widows, Burning of, on the Funeral Pile of their Husbands, 566. Number of Sacrifices in Bengal and Bombay during the last Four Years, ib.

Hyderabad, Picture of the Native Government of, by an Eye Witness, 7. Recommendation to Retired Indians to produce any Literary Stores in their possession to forward the great Work of Improvement in India, ib. Description of the Person and Habits of the Nizam, ib. Extent of Power vested in the British Resident, 8. Arbitrary Methods of Collecting the Revenues, ib. Consequences of ditto, ib. Establishment of the Bank, 9. Pensions allowed by the East India Company to the Officers on the Nizam's Establishment, ib. Disturbances at, caused by confining the Tailor of an English Officer, ib. Loss suffered by the English Troops on this occasion, 10. Imprisonment of the Nizam's Son, ib. Murders and Arbitrary False Imprisonments by the Native Government, 11. Villany of Govind Bucksh, 12. Estimable Character of the Resident, 13. Conduct of England towards this State, ib.

I

India House, Debates at the, 380.

India, Historical Sketch of the Rise and Progress of the British Power in, 338, No. IV. Losses of the French by the Treaty of Pondicherry, ib. Death of Dupleix, ib. Infringement of the Treaty by the English, ib. Their attack on the Districts of Madura and Tinivelly, ib. Subsequent refractory Disposition of, 339. Attack on, and Capture of Calcutta, by Suraja Dowla, ib. Confinement of the English in the Black Hole, and horrible Death of the greater Number, ib. Appointment of Col. Clive to the command of the Expedition for the recovery of the City, ib. Destruction of the Maharatta Pirates, ib. Retaking of Calcutta, 340. Arrival of the News of the War between France and England, ib. Fears in consequence, ib. Treaty with Suraja Dowla, ib. Conduct of Col. Clive towards the French, ib. Detail of the Plot formed against the Subahdar by the English, 341. Disappointment of their avaricious Expectations, ib. Affairs of the Carnatic, 342. Capture of Madura, ib. Arrival of Count Lally with his Fleet in the Roads of Fort St. David, ib. Engagement with the English, ib. Successes and Bravery of the French General Bussy, 343. Unfitness of Lally for the Station to which he was appointed, ib. Bombardment and Siege of Madras, ib. Arrival of the English Fleet, ib. Lally's Retreat to Pondicherry, ib. Taking of the Island of Seringham by the French, 345. Defeat and Retreat of Lally, ib. Quarrels between him and the Governor in Council at Pondicherry, ib. Surrender of the Town to the English, ib. Return of Lally to France, ib. His barbarous Execution, ib.

Indian Army, General Mistake respecting the Uselessness of a superior Education in an Eastern Career, 124. Effects of the continued Altercations between the Court of Directors and the Local Government, 125. Demoralizing tendency of the Oaths extorted from Officers holding Official Situations, 126. Hardships experienced by such as have Families, 127. Amount of Troops in the Pay of the Company, 128.

Indian Press, Report of his Majesty's Privy Council on Mr. Buckingham's Appeal against the Laws for Licensing, 172.

Justice, On the Administration of, in British India, and State of the King's Courts there, 22. Comparative View of the Checks on Juries in England and in India, ib. Salutary Control of the Jury over the arbitrary Power of the Judge in England, ib. Inefficiency of ditto in India, ib. Great Power possessed by the Indian Judges, and absence of Juries altogether in Civil Cases, 24. Mischief produced by, 25. Difficulty of discriminating between the true and false Statements of the Natives, ib. Origin of the Perjuries of the latter, 27. Practice of the Courts in coming to a Decision, ib. Curious Case in Illustration, 29. Superiority of Native Juries, 33. Happy Results of their Introduction into Ceylon, ib. Injustice of excluding the Natives from performing the functions of Jurymen, 34. Difference in the mode of administering Justice in the King's Colonies and the Company's Territories, 229. State of the Colony of Sierra Leone, 230. Origin and Progress of Trial by Jury in Ceylon, 231. Proofs of its inestimable Results, 236.

L

Language, On Symbolic Writings, and the great Utility of Latin, 15.

Latin, On the Value of, as a Medium of general Communication, and imperfection of the Present Mode of Teaching it, 332.

Law and Constitution of India, Observations on the, 61. Falsehoods contained in the Preface to this Work, ib. Proof of ditto, 62. Colonel Stewart's calculation of the enormous Amount of the Land-Tax levied by the Government, ib. Absurd Calculations and false Deductions of the Author, ib. Small Amount of Rental left to the Proprietors at the formation of the Permanent Settlement, 63. False Statement of the Author regarding the Expectations of the Inhabitants of the Ceded Provinces, ib. Cause of the Increase of the Revenue of ditto, 64. Extract from Mr. Tucker's Work in proof of the superiority of the Zumendarry over the Ryotwarry Settlements, ib. Minute of the Madras Revenue Board, showing the Cause of the decline of the Revenue and Misery of the People in the Carnatic, ib. Extract from Sir Thomas Munro's Report recommending a remission of Revenue, 65. Fallacy of the Author's Objections to a Permanent Settlement, 66. His false Notions of the probable Effects of Colonization in India, 67. Conduct of the Company's Servants toward the British Indigo Planters, 68. Opinion of the Author respecting a Free Press in India, and the Effects produced by the Discussions in the Calcutta Journal, 70. The Effects ascribed to their true Cause, ib.

Learning in the East, On, 39. The Restoration of, 82. Bequest of the Rev. C. Buchanan, ib. Poems of Messrs. Grant and Wrangham, ib.

Louis XIV. On the character of, 72. Death of the Grand Dauphin, ib. Anecdote of the Duke of Burgundy, ib. Horror and Dismay produced by the Death of the Dauphin, Dauphiness, and their Son, 73. Suspicion of Poison, ib. Grounds for believing the Duke of Orleans guiltless, ib. Probability of their Deaths being occasioned by an Epidemic then raging at Paris, 74. Extraordinary Will executed by the King, 75. Details respecting it, 76. Substance of ditto, ib. The Abbé Maury's Summary of the Glories of his Reign, 77. Sophistry of this Eulogium, 78. Servility of the Courtiers to the Duke of Orleans on the approaching Death of the King, 79. Conduct of the Populace at his Funeral, ib.

Lynn, (Captain) Nautical and Astronomical Tables, 43. Immensity of the Labour bestowed on the Work, ib. Creditable Conduct of the East India Company and Corporation of the Trinity House towards the Author, 44. Recommendation to the Board of Longitude, Officers in the Navy, &c., to patronize the Book, ib. Prominently useful Features of ditto, 45.

Lucknow, Recital of the Sufferings of the distressed Citizens of, 584.

M

M^c Culloch, Mr., Errors of Doctrine in his Discourse on Political Economy, 55. The Ricardian Theory of Profits, ib. Strictures on his Assertion, that Political Economy is "a Science founded on Fact and Experiment," 56. His Mistakes respecting the true Source of the Errors in the 'Wealth of Nations,' 57. Inaccuracies in his Abstract of Mr. Malthus's Work on Population, 58.

Madras, 158. Unpopularity of the Burmese War at, ib. Apathy respecting Steam Navigation, 159. Noxious Nature of the Prickly Pear Jungle, ib. Reply to the 'Madras Courier' on some Remarks made by it on a Paper in a former Number of this Work, respecting Lawyers' Fees in India, ib. Meeting at, to solicit the aid of Government towards the Erection of a Town-Hall, 369. Despatch from the Court of Directors to Sir Thomas Munro, on his Determination to continue in his Governorship, 552. Important Decision in the Supreme Court against the East India Company, 553. Refusal of their Appeal by the King in Council, ib.

Malcolm, Sir John, The War in India—the Bishop of Calcutta—and the Bengal Civil Service, 131.

Manilla, Earthquake at, 160. Loss of a French Vessel by, ib.

Medical Service, Further unjust Treatment of, by Lord Amherst, 534.

Memory of the Dead, On the Respect due to the, 1. Interesting Nature of the Subject, ib. Proneness of Mankind to Forgive the Injuries of those who can no longer inflict them, 2. Causes of their Forbearance, ib. Unpopularity of Justice, and truly great Men, with the Multitude, 3. Faithless Biography of Tomb Stones, ib. The amiable Virtues no Subject for the admiration of Posterity, 4. Sensitiveness of Princes on this Subject, 4. Accounted for, ib. Desire of Posthumous Reputation natural to all.

Mills's History of Chivalry, Review of, 429. Ill success of the Author, ib. His false Estimate of the Character of Knighthood, 430. His Defence of, from the attacks of its Contemporaries, 431. The Weakness and Inconsistency of his Reasoning, 432. Catalogue of Contradictions, ib. Passage from Sir Walter Scott on the Religion of a Knight, 433. Falsehood of his Assertion regarding St. Palaye, ib. His Account of the Influence of Love over the Actions of the Knight, 434. Sir W. Scott's Opinions on the same Subject, ib. Ignorance and Fierceness of the Ladies in the ages of Chivalry, 436. Summary of the Merits of the Author, 437.

Monachism, On the Spirit of, 241. Probability of its Revival, ib. Lives and Habits of the Monks, 242. Awful Trials of Virtue submitted to by them, 243. Amusements of the Abbots previous to the Reign of Charlemagne, 244. Cause of the Cruelty and hard-heartedness of the Monkish Character, ib. Opinions on Catholic Emancipation, 245. Causes that induce Men to become Inmates of Monasteries, ib. Account of Paul of Thebes, the First Christian Monk, ib. Curious Description of a French Monastery, and the Life of the Abbot and his Monks inhabiting it, 247.

Moore's Views in the Birman Empire, 530.

Mulgrave Castle, Wreck of the, 562.

N

Natives of India, Letter of certain, to Mr. Canning, 193.

Native Army of India, Considerations on the Present State of, 121. Situation of British Officers in the Company's Service, ib. Little Discrimination shown in allotting the Rewards of the Crown to ditto, 122. Depressing Nature of the Service, ib. Neglect of Merit, 123. Proposal for Rewarding Officers more frequently by Brevet, without interfering with their permanent Rank, ib.

New South Wales, 163. Dangerous Power possessed by the Local Government, ib. Consequences of ditto, ib. Detail of the Proceedings respecting the Ship Almorah, ib. Affrays between the Inhabitants of Sydney, and the Military stationed there, 166. Misunderstanding between the Naval Officer, and the Mercantile Community of Hobart's Town, ib. Distress and Discontent produced by the false Economy of the Government, ib.

Netherlands India, Intelligence from, 168. Imposition of the outward Duty on Coffee, ib. Destruction of the Town of Minto by Fire, 374. Anjier and Rhio declared Free Ports by the Dutch, ib. Report of a Monopolising Joint Stock Company, ib. Rebellions against the Dutch Authorities, ib.

O

Ogle Castle, Wreck of the, on the Goodwin Sands, 567.

Omraiz, Attack on the Fort of, 159.

Oriental Tuition, 379. Increased Facilities of Studying the Eastern Languages, ib. Dr. Gilchrist's Examination of the Pupils of Drs. Myers and Jamieson, ib.

Oude Papers, Examination of, 311. Difficulty of the task, ib. Circumstances that led to their Production, ib. Object of the first half of the Book, 312. Recommendation respecting the Reading of, 313. Events that followed the Death of Asuf-ood-Dowlah in 1797, ib. Solemn League and Covenant entered into by the Ladies of the Khoord Muhl, 314. Impassioned Appeal of one of them to the Nuwaub, ib. Hardships imposed by Lord Wellesley on the Sovereign of Oude, 315. The Treaty of the Company with, 316. Recall of Colonel Baillie from the Residency of Lucknow, 317. Causes of the turbulent and refractory Disposition of the Inhabitants, ib. The Resident's Operations for extending his Power and Influence at the Court, 318. Letter of Instructions from the Supreme Government in furtherance of, 319. Refractoriness of the Zumeendars, 321. Attacks on, and destruction of, their Fortresses, ib. Examination of Colonel Baillie's proposed Reform, 322. Struggles against, by the Nuwaub, 323. Colonel Baillie's proposal for Exterminating the "Marauders," ib. Character of, 324. The Nuwaub's objection to the Plan, ib. Declaration of the British Government respecting, 325. Determination of, in case of the Vizier's refusal, ib. Concession of the Latter in consequence, ib. His Letter of Complaint and Expostulation to Lord Minto, ib. Charge made by the Resident against the Vizier, 327. Decision of the Government respecting, 328.

Oude, Abandonment of the objectionable Features of the Resident's Plan of Reform, and consent to by the Nuwaub, 329. Further Differences on the subject, 330. Death of the Nuwaub, ib. Succession of his Son, 401. Character of, ib. Opposition of Colonel Baillie to the appointment of Hukeem Mehdee as Minister to the Nuwaub, 402. Extraordinary Transactions that took place during the Governor-General's Residence in the Upper Provinces, 403. The Nuwaub's Objections against the Resident, 405. Conduct of the Partisans of the latter, 406. Pusillanimous Proceedings of the Nuwaub, 407. Lord Hastings's honourable Conduct in these Transactions, 409. Colonel Baillie's Despatch to the Supreme Government, 410. His charges against the Governor-General, ib. Reply of the latter, 413. The Sentiments of the Nuwaub regarding his Treatment by the Resident, 414. Lord Hastings's and Colonel Baillie's Statements respecting the circumstances which led to the Removal of the latter, 415. The Loan from the Nuwaub to the Government, 424.

P

Passengers, General List of, 200, 400, 614.

Persian Gulf, Survey of, 372. Description of the Harbour and Town of Graen, 374.

Poetry—To the Moon, 14. Stanzas written on leaving England for India, 21. Ode on the Return of the Marquis of Hastings from India, 34. Canzonette, 54. From the Romance of Antar, 60. Song—For an Absent Friend, 71. The Poet's Dwelling, 80. Battle Scene from the Romance of Antar, 88. On receiving in America a Virginian Nightingale, intended for a Friend in England, 97. Morning on the Sea Shore—a Sonnet, 104. Honneur aux Braves, 112. Lines, on Viewing the bold and beautiful Cliff, terminated by the Needles, 116. Bolivar, 120. The Mountain Storm—a Sonnet, 128. Hymn for the Dead, 137. From the Arabic of Tograi, 140. Alas! that Morning, seen so bright, 143. The North East Trade, 218. Black Gang Chine, in the Isle of Wight, 228. The Storm, 240. Past, Present, and Future, 248. Abzendegani; or the Water of Life, (an Eastern Legend), 249. The Village Well, 267. Freedom, 274. Cheerfulness, 285. Song—Air: Drink to Me only with thine Eyes, 295. To W. D. on Early Inspiration, 304. The Anchor's Weighed—Farewell! Remember Me! 310. Sonnet—To an Orphan on the Death of her Lover, ib. Immortality, 331. Pure and Undefiled Religion, 337. The Spirit of the Year, 427. Evening Prayer at a Girls' School, 438. Persian Song, 476. Stanzas—By T. K. Hervey, 481. Locusts, ib. The Midnight Watch, 516. Lines from the Arabic of Antar, 529.

Princep's History of Lord Hastings's Administration in India, 201. Character of the Work, 202. Opinion on the Conduct of Lord Moira from 1814 to 1818, ib. Origin of our Successes in the East, 203. Chronological Review of Indian History, 205. Consequences of our Interference in the Affairs of a Subsidized State, 208. Disapprobation of the Author's Treatment of Sir John Malcolm, 210. Merits of his Work on Central India, 211. Cause of the sudden Rise of the Revenue of Bombay in 1818, 212. Colonel Baillie's Conduct in the Affair of Hyderabad, 213. Remarks on the Chapter of Financial Review, 214. General Conduct of Government with respect to Revenue, 216. Absence of all Allusion to a better System of Government, 218.

Public Companies, Mr. Buckingham's Letter on, 596. Second Letter, 598.

R.

Rangoon Force, 150. Proceedings of the Troops under Sir A. Campbell, 151. Repulse of Brigadier Cotton's Division, at Donabew, 152. Retrogade March of Sir A. Campbell's Troops, ib. Hesitation of the Siamese in declaring in our Favour, 153. Capture of Bassein, ib. Disposition of the Troops destined against Amerapoora, 154. Message of the Burmese to Sir A. Campbell, ib. Sufferings of the British Troops, 156. Policy of the Burmese in suffering our Troops to advance unmolested, 364. Return of the Inhabitants to Rangoon, 365. Circumstantial Detail of General Cotton's Attack on Donabew, ib. Failure of ditto, 366. Retreat of the British Troops, ib. Capture of Prome, 367. Particulars of the subsequent Fall of Donabew, 550. Occupation of Prome, 551. Policy of the Burmese in warding off Danger, by pretended Negotiation, ib. Their Preparations for the Defence of the Capital, 552. Dearness of Provisions at Prome, ib. Shipping Intelligence, 199, 398, 612.

S.

Siam, Extraordinary Intelligence from, 150.

Singapore, 160. Death of Raja Bey, the Malay Chief and Pirate, 161. Intelligence from, 374.

Slaves, Capture and Release of a Slave Cargo at the Isle of France, 161. Singular Order of the Governor of the Mauritius, ib. Liberation of, in America, and munificent Conduct of their Owner, 162.

Stanhope, Hon. Colonel Leicester, his Letter to the Editor of Blackwood's M gazine, 113.

Steam Navigation, 171. Reports respecting the Departure of the "London Engineer" for the Indian Voyage, ib. The last News of the "Enterprize," 172. Departure of a new Ship for India, 614.

Sylhet Force, 157. Suspension of Military Operations by the Setting in of the Rains, ib. Patience and Fortitude of the Troops, 158. Impassable State of the Roads in Cachar, ib. Immense Loss of Cattle in consequence, ib.

T.

Thornton, Mr., Death of, in an Engagement with Pirates, 561.

Traveller in the East, Unpublished Manuscripts of a, No. IV., 46. Description of a Swarm of Locusts in the Mediterranean, ib. Devastations produced by them at various Periods, ib. Volney's Account of their Visitations, 47. Curious Appearance of the Sea, caused by their Putrefaction, ib. The Islands of Sambro, Pantellaria and Sicily. Descriptions of, 48. Historical and Classical Associations of Sicily, 49. Nation of the Cyclops, ib. Description of, ib. Explanation of the Eye said to be placed in the middle of their Foreheads, 50. Their Light-houses, ib. Derivation of the Word Tor, ib. Cruelty of the Cyclops, 51. The Syrens, 52. Their Cruelty, ib. The Faro of Messina, Sylla, and Charybdis. The Dangers of, 53. The Islands of Gozo and Malta, 54. Early History of Malta, 275. Description of the Inhabitants, 278. Their Manners and Customs; Seclusion of their Females, 279. Marriages, 280. Funerals, 281. Festivals, 282. Dialect, 283. Fanatical Act of Canabalism, 284. Anecdote in Confirmation of the Non-existence of Contagion, ib. No. V.—Voyage from Malta, through the Greek Islands, 497. Beauty of the Scenery, ib. Attack of Pirates, 499. Intrepidity of the English Captain, ib. Affecting Circumstance respecting his Wife and Child, ib. Flight of the Pirate Vessel, 500. History of the Island of Santorin, 502. Second Meeting with the Pirates, 504. History of Candia or Crete, ib. Arrival at the Harbour of Milo, 508.

Tucker's, Mr., Work on the Finances of the East-India Company, A few cursory Notes on, 89. His Justification of the Salt Monopoly, 90. First Appropriation of by the Company, ib. Vice and Misery produced by the Tax, in the Salt Districts, 91. Tax on Opium and the Juggernaut Pilgrims, ib. Value of the Author's Chapter on the Land Revenue of India, 92. Situation of the Zumeendars under the Revenue Settlement of Lord Cornwallis, ib. Trifling Importance of the Discussion as to who were the real Proprietors, 93. Closeness of the Court of Directors with respect to their Records and Accounts, 94. Causes of the Rebellion in Cuttack, ib. The Author's Defence of the Tea Monopoly, 95. Fallacy of ditto, ib. Low Price of Teas in America. &c., 96. Company's Mode of carrying on the Trade, ib. Causes of the Increase of the Territorial Debt, 97.

Tytler, Dr. R., his Letter to Mr. Canning, 594.

U.

Utopia, On Sir Thomas More's, 286. Ignorance of People in general of the merits of the Work, ib. Resemblance of, to Plato's Republic, ib. Causes of its Unpopularity, 287. Review of the Book; Simplicity and Beauty of the Introductory Dialogues, 287—8. Character of the Author's Speculations, 289. His Character of the Clergy of his Day, ib. Boldness of his Comments on the Policy and Court of Henry VII., ib. His Description of the Country of Utopia, 290. Its Government, 291. Division of Time, ib. Regulation respecting Literary Men, 292. Considerations of War and Colonization, ib. Description of its Cities, 293. Public Meals, ib. Strange Regulation with respect to Travelling, ib. The Author's Notions regarding Suicide, 294. His Ridicule of our bulky Laws, 294. Account of the Religion of the Inhabitants, ib.

Mills, Jowett, & Mills, (late Bensley,) Bolt-court.